FIRST CAMP-MEETING IN AMERICA

It Was Held at Russellville, Kentucky, a Century Ago.

"The effect of the McGee brothers' preaching—especially of John McGee—at a Presbyterian quarterly meeting on the banks of Red River, in Kentucky, was so startling and seemed so clearly to indicate that it was the result of Divine agency or some mysterious force possessed by the preacher, that the news of the occurrence spread rapidly in all directions throughout that part of the State, and attracted unbounded interest," writes Clifford Howard in the July Ladies' Home Journal. "If it did not at once awaken a responsive religious feeling, it at least excited curiosity, and when it was learned that the McGee brothers were to hold a meeting at Russellville, Kentucky, a newly settled town in Logan County, near the Muddy River, persons from all parts of the adjoining country, irrespective of their religious beliefs or church allegiance, prepared to attend. It soon became evident that the four walls of a country meeting-house would not suffice to hold the large numbers that were making ready to go to Russellville. The problem thus presented was solved by determining to hold the meeting in the open air. Those coming from a distance were prepared to camp; it would be no hardship to them to remain out-of-doors. The recent experience at Red River had proved this. It was not expected by those who were coming that the lodging accommodations at the village of Russellville would be sufficient by any means. Why, therefore, attempt to house the people? Prepare a camping-ground, and let the meeting be a 'camp' meeting. This, then, was the origin of camp-meetings; and the first one held in America was on the banks of the Muddy River, near Russellville, Kentucky, in the month of August, 1799—one hundred years ago. Not that religious worship had never before been held in the open air, but the special feature of camping out and the nature of the services made the camp-meeting a distinctive institution, and characterized this particular gathering on Muddy River as the first of its kind."

Wonderful Discovery.
LUNSFORD, ALA., April 15, 1898. New Spencer Medicine Co.
Dear Sirs:—I have been troubled with liver and stomach complaint. I had no appetite and my general health was very bad. I took medicine from four different doctors and they failed to do me any good. I got no relief until I began to use your Nubian Tonic. I used about two dollars worth of it, and it did me more good than all the medicine I ever took. I have gained thirty-five pounds in weight and my health is very good. I can eat soundly and my appetite is excellent. I can recommend Planter's Nubian Tonic to the world as being a God-send to any community. Any one who doubts this statement can write to me.

A Most Enjoyable Day.
Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Toy chaperoned a crowd of young ladies to Dawson last Sunday and a most delightful day was spent out on the cliffs. The party left town early in the morning and returned at 10 o'clock in the evening. The following young ladies accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Toy: Misses Lizzie Huff, Nannie, Frankie and Effie Stokes, Inez and Lelia Dean and Annie and Nannie Ashby.

Good Roads.
From the L. A. W. Bulletin.
O, but those motor-carriage folks will be "hollerin'" for good roads pretty soon.

Horses like to be well stalled, but not in a muddy highway. Now is about the time of year when mud-holes are converted into job lots of dust. Any in front of your house?

The horse wanted good roads, the bicycle has tried to get good roads, the automobile must have good roads.

Mr. Amos Bassett, one of the pioneer citizens of Madisonville, and a man who had the universal respect and esteem of all, died at his home in Madisonville, Sunday morning, June 25, 1899, at 6 o'clock, of pneumonia.

He leaves a wife and nine children to mourn his demise. Messrs. George, Lucien, Eliza, Samuel and John Bassett, and Mesdames A. D. Sisk, Ed Kirkwood, Mary Winstead, Y. M. Johnson.

The funeral services were held at his late residence Monday afternoon, conducted by Rev. D. Whittinghill, after which the remains were laid to rest in Grapevine cemetery.

With no word or sign of any but the best and most harmonious feeling the Republicans of Hopkins county met in mass convention at the Court House in Madisonville last Thursday, June 22, sent delegates to the State Convention to be held at Lexington July 12, and nominated a candidate for the Legislature.

The convention passed a very strong set of resolutions, endorsing in the highest terms our Hopkins county candidate, the Hon. Clifton J. Pratt, the National and State Administrations, and sending a strong delegation to the State convention instructed to cast their votes as a unit for Judge Clifton J. Pratt for Governor of Kentucky and on all questions to vote as a unit in his interests.

The following is the official record of the proceedings of the convention.

Official Record:
Pursuant to a call of the Republican county committee the Hopkins county Republicans met in mass convention at the Court House in Madisonville, Thursday afternoon June 22, 1899. The convention was called to order by County Chairman J. B. Harvey. Judge William Beard was elected temporary chairman and by motion was authorized to appoint a Secretary which he did by naming Paul M. Moore.

Upon motion the temporary organization was then made permanent. After the reading of the official call for this convention by County Secretary Charles Cowell, Mr. J. H. Lunsford moved that the Chair appoint a Committee on Resolutions. The motion prevailed and Chairman Beard named the following committee:

R. J. Salmon, James King, R. W. Wood, Dr. W. K. Nisbet, J. D. Bell, J. H. Lunsford, Hayes Jones.

While the committee was preparing its report the convention heard short speeches by Thomas Finley and Will P. Scott. The committee then submitted the following report and resolutions which were read by the Secretary and unanimously adopted.

Report of Committee on Resolutions.
We, the Republicans of Hopkins county, Kentucky, in mass convention assembled, renew our allegiance to the Republican party, whose principles and policies make the brightest pages in our history as a nation, and are being vindicated by current events. We heartily endorse and approve the wise, statesmanlike and patriotic National and State Administrations. We express our great confidence in and high regard for our beloved President, whom every true American delights to honor and praise; and in our worthy Governor, whose brilliant administration deserves the good will and applause of good citizens everywhere.

We view with alarm the attempt that is now being made by certain Democratic politicians to throttle the will of the people. We denounce the Gobel election law as dangerous and un-American. We favor such legislation as will be best for the general good. We recognize in Judge Clifton J. Pratt the ideal candidate of our party for Governor, and we instruct our delegates to cast the entire vote of this county as a unit for him, and to use all their votes and influence on all questions and in every honorable way to secure his nomination. With Judge Pratt at the head of our ticket success at the coming election would be assured. He is an honorable, upright, Christian gentleman, an able and distinguished jurist, an eloquent and forcible speaker, and a loyal and earnest Republican. He belongs to no faction, has kept aloof from all contentions, has ever been on the highest plane of politics, and his nomination would unite all forces and bring harmony to the ranks. Under his manly, courageous, inspiring leadership our Grand Old Party, united and enthusiastic, would march on to certain victory.

We select the following delegates and alternates to represent Hopkins county at the Republican State Convention, which meets at Lexington, July 12, 1899.

Delegates:
Dr. W. P. Ross, Geo. C. Atkinson, R. J. Salmon, Dr. T. W. Gardner, Dan M. Evans, W. F. Ward, J. D. Haywood, Ben T. Robinson, R. R. Graham.

Alternates:
C. J. Waddill, Will P. Scott, Jacob Crambaker, John King, Add Rains, John Bell, J. B. Atkinson, Lawrence Pratt, Wm. Worthington, Dr. W. F. Kell.

Charles Cowell then moved that the convention proceed to nominate a candidate to represent Hopkins in the next Legislature. The motion prevailed and Will P. Scott arose and presented, in a brief but happy speech, the name of Mr. Ben T. Robinson. The nomination received a prompt and general second and a motion at once prevailed that the nominations close and the selection of Mr. Robinson be made unanimous. Mr. Robinson responded in a few words, expressive of his appreciation of the honor conferred and accepted the nomination. A motion then prevailed ordering that Mr. Robinson's name be placed on the official ballot at the November election under such device as will be selected to head the Republican State ticket.

Brave Flea Fall.
Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles, as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life. Only 50 cents at St. Bernard Drug Store. Every bottle guaranteed."

CorNSTALKS continue to look up. Republicans and Trusts.
From the Indianapolis (Ind.) Journal.
In the United States, as long ago as 1890, a Republican Congress passed an anti-trust law. The layman who reads it will come to the conclusion that it is a very strong law. Whether it is or not, no Democratic Congress has undertaken to make it more effective. Indeed, the theory of Free-Trade is to let trade take care of itself. It is the doctrine of go as you please. On the other hand, all anti-trust legislation of a national character, and all in most of the States is the work of Republicans.
